

CONSTRUCTION COMPLETE

Construction is complete for two, large-scale expansion projects of ARCH. Featured above is the Glenmere expansion at The Village at Rockville, a National Lutheran Communities & Services community in Rockville, Maryland. The Glenmere expansion included a new 130 unit, Independent Living building and a variety of amenities including dining, wellness, aquatics and fellowship spaces. The beautiful new buildings complement the existing campus while providing an updated design aesthetic that responds to Owner expectations and the marketplace.

Pictured below is the final phase of a multi-year repositioning and expansion project at Eben Ezer Lutheran Care Center in Brush, Colorado. The project included a new assisted living and memory care building, two new skilled nursing wings and new central services and common area amenities.

ARCH provided development management services for both clients, working with Owner and project team members for the successful completion of both projects.
